stores. He brought with him, among forgotten. It tickles his vanity. other things, half of a small snakeskin concerning which he tells the following veracious story:

"I was coming home from setting my traps one morning along about the first of April," says Jabez, "when I heard a frightful row in the bushes, like as if a wildcat was throwing a fit and then trying to pick it up again. I opened the brush, and there, in a little clearing, was the queerest sight you ever struck.

"In the middle of the clearing was a little rattlesnake, not mor'n three foot long. Around him on the ground lay the torn and mangled bodies of 12 blacksnakes, not one of 'em less than twice as big as he was. And 12 more of the same size was still fighting him. He'd evidently wandered into a nest of gigantic blacksnakes and had been attacked by the whole shooting match. "He was fighting plenty, unappeased and tempestuous, and he'd killed half his foes, but any fool could see at a glance that the others would be too he feels that his efforts to serve the many for him, for he was breathing hard and his eye was glazing.

"Well, his pluck tickled me so much I just rushed in and scattered those assailants of his every which way. Then I started home.

"But that little snake I'd saved was chock full of gratitude. He followed me home like a dog, and slept on the threshold. I couldn't drive him away. "Bimeby I got to be fond of him, he wassodevoted, and I named him Simon Married in a Lion's Den.

A wedding took place in a lions' den at Reading, Pa., during the progress of Full weight guaranteed. Promptness contracting parties were Capt. Delancier, African explorer, and Miss Malka Williams. The den-the lions were mild ones-was moved into the center of the midway, and the bride and bridegroom entered the cage. Several thousand people gathered to witness the ceremony. Rev. George W. Brownback was the officiating clergyman, but he did not enter the den. He stood comfortably and safely optside the bars, and did all that was required from that vantage point. It was all over in five minutes and the wedded couple moved into safety.

> Killed by Streak of Luck, A poor widow in Paris, who kept a small shop, received a letter informing her that she had won $25,000 in a lottery. The violent emotion caused by the good news resulted in her death, as she was found stiff in her chair with the letter in her hand.

> Premature Burial Prevented. To distinguish death from catalepsy, Dr. Icard, of Marseilles, injects fluorescin into the veins. If there is any circulation, in two minutes the body will turn grass green, but the color causing any harm.

REWARDS OF PUBLIC LIFE.

Carter H. Harrison, Mayor of Chicago, Discusses the Subject in Its Various Phases.

From the financial standpoint it doesn't pay to be famous or succeed in polities, provided a man is in polities to be honest. If he goes into polities to make money, I presume it can be made to pay. But there is some-thing more than money in the consciousness of having served the peo-A New York World correspondent, ple faithfully and of a public duty writing from Bowersox, Coke county, well performed. CARTER H. HARRISON. Filling His Second Term as Mayor of the City of Chicago.)

Sometimes a cloud comes over the sky; public have not been appreciated, and he wants to give up the office and quit public life forever. Then as another election approaches the sun comes out, the sky is flooded with light, and he feels that he has not labored in vain. There is also a pleasurable excitement in winning a victory in a battle at the polls. It exhibarates a man and pours a flattering unction on his

If I had performed the same services that I have for Chicago for some corporation similar in size and extent they would be worth $35,000 to $40,000 a year. The worry and work would be no greater and the responsibility less. Men like Corporation Counsel Walker, Comptroller McGann and Commissioner Blocki perform services worth four times as much as they are paid. Large corporations pay larger salaries than public officials are paid, but the personal gratification in holding a public office is worth more than money to a man who loves the plaudits of an appreciative public.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND.

Minnesota Prelate May Succeed to the Late Mgr. Corrigan's See and Become a Cardinal,

Archbishop John Ireland, of St. Paul, whose name is prominently mentioned in Rome as a candidate for the archbishopric of the vacant see of New York, has long been discussed as a probable cardinal, to which his transfer to Archbishop Corrigan's seat would be a natural step. The distinguished prelate of St. Paul is 64 years as much a part of my household as I old. He was born in Ireland and came (Possible Candidate for the Vacant See of New York.) once to St. Paul, where he was educated at the cathedral school. He studied theology in France, was ordained priest on December 21, 1861, consecrated a bishop in 1875, and became archbishop a few years subsequently. Mgr. Ireland is a broad-gauge, liberal, cultured and distinctly modern churchman, who has friends in every American city. His transfer east would please many persons in and near Washington.

Wealth Left to Rooster. A wealthy woman, named Silva, re-cently died at Lisbon and left her entire property to a rooster. She was a fervid spiritualist, a believer in the transmigration of souls, and imagined that the soul of her dead husband had entered the rooster. She caused a special fowl house to be built and ordered her servants to pay extra attention to their "master's" wants. The disgust of her realtives over the will caused the story to become public, and a lawsuit might have followed had not one of the heirs adopted the simple expedient of having the wealthy rooster killed, thus becoming himself next of kin. Why They Oppose Polygamy,

General gloom prevails among the subjects of Morocco's sultan when he decides to marry, as everybody is expected to contribute a wedding Wood Made from Pulp.

Artificial wood made from pulp is coming into use. By this patented process excellent imitations of oak, mahogany and rosewood are now produced.
